

1960	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Australian Aboriginal Art exhibition¹. • Barry Stern Gallery established². • Publication of Kym Bonython: Modern Australian Painting & Sculpture³ • First Adelaide Arts Festival • Commonwealth Literary Censorship Board bans Nabokov's Lolita & Brendan Behan's Borstal Boy • Robin Boyd: The Australian Ugliness published⁴ IMAGE AU220 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Chadstone Shopping Centre opened⁵. • WA Department of Native Affairs ceases to remove Aboriginal children from their parents for education in missions. • TV Debates between Presidential candidates Kennedy & Nixon - a new use of television in election campaigns. • Sino-Soviet Split; China in deep economic crisis as result of 'Great Leap Forward' • Pan-Africanist Congress begin non-violent protest against pass laws in South Africa. Sharpeville Massacre (Mar 21st) focusses international opposition to apartheid.
------	--	--

¹ Organised by Tony Tuckson & touring state galleries, Aug 1960 - June 1961.

² Initially at 23 Roslyn Gardens, Elizabeth Bay, moving to 42 Gurner St, Paddington in 1962.

³ Kym Bonython: Modern Australian Painting & Sculpture: A Survey of Australian Art from 1950 to 1960 (Adelaide, 1960) Expansion of interest in Australian art, along with establishment of new commercial gallery spaces.

⁴ Robin Boyd: The Australian Ugliness (F.W. Cheshire, 1960)

⁵ First major suburban shopping centre, marking the retailing shift to the suburbs and away from city centres in Australia.